Dig it!

The Sesqui Project, an archaeological dig of the campus, was started this year at St. Stanislaus. The scope of the project is the next 10 years to SSC's 150th anniversary. Instructors, who will integrate archaeology into the curriculum, recently practiced their skills in a training exercise. Marco Giardino, who holds a PhD in archaeology and is the total quality management officer at NASA, is mentor for the project. From left, are band director Catchie Choina, Giardino, and assistant band director Jackie Davidson, who found a coronet valve casing with serial numbers they did not recognize. "They have been looking at band instruments for 30 years and didn't recognize this one. It was also too small to be a modern instrument," said Pat Modenbach, SSC spokesman. Waveland ordinance prohibits parking 18-wheelers at home

BY LIZ HAAS

The Waveland Board of Aldermen approved an ordinance change eliminating the parking or storing of heavy-duty commercial vehicles and equipment in residential areas. The change was a recommendation of the planning and zoning commission in response to a year-long battle with Waveland residents C.W. and Lisa Parker, who are truckers.

The couple, who lives on the corner of Old Spanish Trail and Nicholson Avenue, have parked their 18-wheeler truck and other commercial trucks and heavy equipment in their yard.

A Waveland judge previously ordered the Parkers to remove all commercial vehicles from their property with the exception of a four-wheel drive pickup truck and the 18-wheeler.

They will now be forced under the ordinance to move the 18-wheeler and heavy equipment.

Parker said she and her husband will be forced to move their trucks to Louisiana where they own property.

Ray Maggiore, a resident of Longo Street, presented the board with 115 signatures of Waveland residents who were for the ordinance change.

"Ninety-seven percent of the people I talked with do not want the tractor-trailers here," he said.

Maggiore said no other coastal counties allow it.

"It's a dangerous situation with all that heavy equipment in their back yard. What if something happens? Who cov-

Embezzlement case goes before attorney general

The embezzlement case of former Diamondhead Days Inn manager Kathleen Simpson will be prosecuted by the state attorney general's office.

The district attorney's office rejected the case because Simpson is the sister of Steve Simpson, assistant district attorney.

Simpson, 39, was served last week with an indictment that charges her with embezzling about $25,600 in cash from Days Inn.

The indictment charges her with 35 counts of embezzlement, one count of receiving stolen property and one count of possession of less than one ounce of marijuana.

James Dean Doss, 35, who was arrested with Simpson and charged with one count of receiving stolen property and one count of possession of less than one ounce of marijuana was also served with an indictment last week. His trial was set for November 8 in Hancock County Circuit Court.

County joins lawsuit for greater share of funds

BY AMY PICKICH

Supervisors agreed Monday to join a lawsuit for state-aid road allocations, but not to commit the county to pay for it.

Supervisor Dolph Kollar said this could mean more money for Hancock, which receives the second lowest funds in the state.

Hancock will join the DeSoto County Board of Supervisors who have filed suit against the State Aid Road Division and other state offices challenging the formula used to allocate state and federal road funds. The distribution formula for road construction and maintenance relies on 1940 U.S. Census figures.

Jackson County has also agreed to join the suit.

Representatives from Coastal Family Health and Hancock Medical Center discussed an ongoing conflict between the two over the treatment of county jail inmates.

The Board requested FHC discuss the problems with HMC administrator Don Henderson and report to the supervisors on Oct. 14.

Tax Collector Eddie Murtagh reported a county collection rate of 76 percent on properties and a 99 percent on businesses.

The board also approved Murtagh's request to engage the help of Gerald Gex, board attorney, in the collection of delinquent taxes.

The board approved the request of Cleveland Wyatt from the Kiln Water and Fire Protection District that they be able to apply for Farmers Home Administration loans to provide sewerage for Kiln.

The board asked that they coordinate plans with the wastewater district and with Gulf Regional Planning so both the county and the Kiln will not be competing with each other for the same grants.

BSL endorses Bay Youth Football's use of field

BY AMY PICKICH

Bay St. Louis councilmen unanimously passed a resolution Tuesday endorsing the Bay Youth Football organization's request to use Bay High's football stadium.

Councilman Tom Favre was applauded by a crowd of parents and Bay Youth Football supporters at the meeting for his suggested action.

Council president James Thriffliey initially said an official action by the board was not appropriate at the time because the council had no authority to authorize use of the field.

Thriffliey told Earl Fayard, the group's spokesman to make an official appeal to the Bay-Waveland school district for use of the field.

Bay-Waveland Superintendent Paul Tisdale said in a letter to the editor that he decided not to allow the group use of the field because of previous abuse and damage to facilities by the group. Tisdale said the field was left in poor condition and that a fence and water sprinkler system was damaged.

At Tuesday's meeting Fayard disputed Tisdale's statements and said Tisdale was a "liar." He said the group of some 130, 7-to 12-year-olds could not have caused the damages Tisdale described.

School board discusses three percent raise for substitutes

BY LIZ HAAS

Hancock County School Board member Larry Peterson asked the board in a Monday meeting to consider giving an additional three percent raise to substitutes, who were excluded from the recent raise for non-certified employees.

Peterson voted no on the previous approval of three percent raises for non-certified employees because it did not include all non-certified employees. Teachers' aides were excluded.

"Overall, we have given the full time employees a six percent raise and the part time a three percent raise. This is not fair, and I think we need to be fair," he said.

Superintendent Myrna Bourgeois was instructed by the board to gather figures on the cost of a pro-rated scale for a three percent raise for subs.

Bourgeois received authorization to find out the cost of moving the old principal's home at Hancock North Central Elementary to the site of the alternative school, making it the administrative office.

The board approved the program outline, location of facility and handout to parents for the alternative school, the Hancock County School for Success.

"We've done some screening and have some students ready to start the alternative school," said Bourgeois.

Peterson said people from the Hancock North Central Elementary Booster Club complained about the school district not allowing them to use the football field at HNCE.

"I told them they can not play on the field without first fixing the fence on the bleachers, which they said they would do before their first game there," said Bourgeois.

The board approved to not allow anyone the use of the field until the fence is fixed.

Board attorney Steve Benvenuti brought up the matter of issuing a bond to get federal government equipment for the JROTC program.

The board approved to authorize the district to enter into a bond for safe keeping of governmental property for $50,000 to indemnify the U.S.A.

Thoughts for meditation:
 Discontentment makes rich men poor, while contentment makes poor men rich.

Be content with what you have, because God has said, "Never will I leave you; never will I forsake you."

Hebrews 13:5
 We keep best that which we give away.

For you know the grace of Our Lord Jesus Christ, that though He was rich, yet for your sakes He became poor so that you through His poverty might become rich.

II Corinthians 8:9
 "Naked I came from my mother's womb and naked I will depart. The Lord gave and the Lord has taken away; may the name of the Lord be praised."

In all this Job did not sin by charging God with wrongdoing.

Job 1:21
 Father, please give me the grace to praise You in all circumstances — to not question Your wisdom or to grow bitter. It is so difficult, especially when uncertainty plagues my path. Amen.

Forget the former things; do not dwell on the past. See, I am doing a new thing!

Isaiah 43:18-19
 Thank You, Lord for this promise. I am discouraged and find myself looking to the future. Help me see the "new thing" You are doing in my life. Amen.

Altrusa Club sponsors alphabetized box for collections at Bay library

Adrienne Bradley, assistant supervisor of the circulation desk at the Hancock County Library, and Lis Lagarde, president of the Bay St. Louis-Waveland Altrusa Club, sort coupons.

With the approval and cooperation of Prima Plauche, administrator of the Hancock County Library System, the Bay St. Louis-Waveland Altrusa Club has chosen as a service project the providing of a coupon box for the use of everyone in the area. This service will be offered only at the City-County Library, 312 Hwy. 90, Bay St. Louis.

This is a project that does not involve or cost money, but does require members to keep the coupon box up to date and regularly replenished.

Coupons are filed alphabetically in recycled, alphabetized envelopes. After familiarizing oneself with the system, it should become easy for everyone to select coupons for their purchases. Coupons are accepted at grocery, department and drug stores in Hancock County.

assured the board that the District would not conflict with projects or grants for the county.

The board adopted a resolution to pay Waste Management $1.80 more per ton, as the waste disposal rate per ton will go from $17.80 to $19.60.

The board is waiting on Compton Engineering's specification plans for the disposal of solid waste so they can advertise for bids. They are also waiting on agreement from Bay St. Louis and Waveland on the project.

Terry Robinson from Waste Management said they would extend the county's contract on a month-to-month basis until Compton's plans are ready.

"We did our homework a long time ago, now we're just waiting on other people," Chancery Clerk Mike Necaise said.

The board took under advisement requests to approve property developments on Atmore Avenue and Chicago Street until area residents are contacted.

The area in question, near the Jubilee Bayou Caddy Casino site, is part of the wetlands and cannot be developed legally.

Fayard also requested the council expand recreation department services.

In other matters the council tabled a recycling contract from Gulf Coast Waste until they are able to discuss specifics further at a workshop on Oct. 18.

Councilman Tad Black said he wanted a chance to have input on this year's contract, which included language from last year's contract.

"We need to look into what we can do for all of Bay St. Louis, and where we will be in the future," Black said.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Saturday is the big day in Bay St. Louis for A Place of Art II.

The best area artists will gather on Main Street from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. for an outdoor exhibit and sale, sponsored by the Bay St. Louis Development Foundation.

Some 40 artists will display their works along Main Street from the Beach to Second Street.

A directory of artists will be available at the information table and from artists.

There will also be special demonstrations and entertainment during the day.

Sounds like it will be a fun day in the Bay on Saturday.

Signature artist for A Place of Art II is Bay St. Louis resident Elizabeth Lirette-Vest.

Early visitors may receive a hand fan featuring the work of Lirette-Vest.

I hope to see you at the A Place of Art II Saturday.

Friday night will be mid-season for local high school football teams.

All three Hancock teams will be at home Friday and are facing strong opponents in District 8, 4-A competition.

Bay High will be trying to get back on the right track after a last play of the game loss to St. Martin's Yellow Jackets last Friday. Many thought Bay High won the game.

This is a new week, and the Tigers have to forget last week. This Friday, the Tigers play host to Pearl River Central, always a contender in the district.

This is a must game for Bay High if they plan on being a contender this year in the district.

I am sure head coach Rocky Gaudin would like to have his Tigers rebound this week at the expense of Pearl River Central.

Hancock High will play host to d'Iberville's Warriors in Hawk stadium.

The Warriors are always a formidable foe for Hancock, so head coach Irvin Favre needs to be ready for a good battle this week.

The team that makes the fewest mistakes should take this game, and with Hancock being the host team it is probably an even contest.

St. Stanislaus, with a new head coach, will tangle with a hungry Long Beach Bearcat eleven in Rock-A-Chaw stadium.

The Rocks need a win in the worst way and could with a few breaks pull an upset over the Bearcats.

Interim head coach Larry Ramsey should have the Rocks ready to go and play a good game.

Every high school football fan should be at the stadium Friday night, as their respective team will be needing good fan support.

Remember, your support can make a difference.

I hope to see you at the game. Kickoffs are at 7:30 p.m.

Several weeks ago I was talking to an elated Father William Kelley, SVD, about the honors he recently received.

Father Kelley, who has been a resident of Bay St. Louis for the past 23 years at St. Augustine Seminary, was named the nation's Heart Patient of the Year.

Father Kelley has held several positions at the Seminary over the years, his last being rector, and now he is the director of the Retreat Center.

Following bypass surgery in January, Father Kelley lost 73 pounds by exercising and eating low cholesterol foods.

He can be seen walking about town or at the Hancock Walking Track on a regular basis.

The award was presented to Father Kelley last month at the Press Club in Washington, D.C. Making the trip with him was seminary physician Dr. Sidney Chevis and Bro. Rogers Hannon, SVD.

While in D.C., Father Kelley reported visiting the offices of our officials from the area.

Since receiving the prestigious award, which Father Kelley says was won by his 'family' at St. Augustine, he has had several interviews with television, newspapers and magazine writers.

Many of us have weight problems, and Father Kelley's answer is, "If you exercise and eat right, you can do it."

Father Kelley's heart problems have made changes in that all the cooks at the seminary have 'gone to school' and revamped the menu. All of the buildings are smoke-free, too.

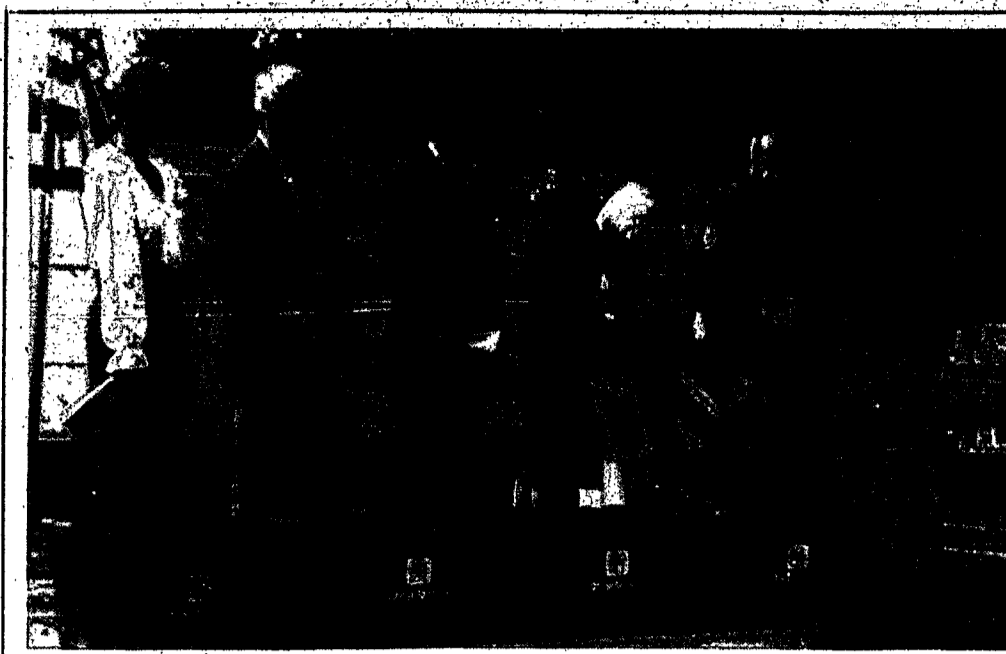

Congratulations to Father Kelley on his very prestigious award, and I hope to see you at the Walking Track.

Telephone book recycling

The telephone book recycling for 1993 along the Mississippi Gulf Coast was officially kicked off Monday at the Mississippi Gulf Coast Coliseum. Cindy Vernon, Hancock Chamber of Commerce executive director, was included in the special program sponsored by the Harrison County Beautification Committee, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and Ocean Springs Chamber of Commerce. There are two drop-off locations in Hancock County, one BFI bin next to the chamber office and another in the Diamondhead Plaza Shopping Center. Students from area schools will also be collecting old telephone directories. For further information, call the chamber at 467-9048. (Echo staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

Russell Drive residents petition for improvements

Dear Editor:

While we do not have any malice toward the Mayor of Waveland, we would like some repairs done to our street.

One of the residents on our street is a paraplegic, and in addition to the hazards of driving, she cannot enjoy an outing in her wheelchair due to the poor condition of the street.

We are all sick and tired of the deplorable condition of Russell Drive.

Even though it is only a dead end street, the road is in such bad condition it is virtually impossible to drive on it without hitting innumerable pot holes and crevices.

The street has been patched over patches for years now. It's time to fix it properly. When it rains, it is impossible to pass through the middle of the street without losing your brakes. Even when the weather is clear and dry, one must drive through the worst part of the street if there is a visiting car parked on the side of the street.

We, the residents, feel because of past "non-action" taken on this deplorable street condition, the only time city officials recognize the citizens of Russell Drive, is when it is election time and "promises" are made but never followed.

We also invite you to drive your personal cars down our street to see for yourselves.

Set an example for your child — wear a seat belt

To the Editor:

There was an excellent article in the Echo in the Sunday, Oct. 3 edition about seat belt safety entitled 'Buckle Up.'

Unfortunately there is no fine to go along with this law, and Ron Sennett said most legislators feel imposing a fine would be infringing on the rights of the individual. If only the individual were affected when he or she is seriously injured or killed in an accident, that would be fine, but that is rarely the case.

Obviously, all of those who loved the person are terribly affected, but in many other ways all of us who pay taxes and insurance premiums are also affected.

This may sound cold-hearted and materialistic, but I look at it this way — if you are going to take a ride in my car, I want you to put on your seat belt in case I have an accident and it is my fault. That way my insurance company and I may only have to pay for minor injuries instead of plastic surgery to put your face back together or instead of your family suing me because you died.

Of course, there are accidents in which wearing a seat belt made no difference; but it did not hurt, either.

People talk about being trapped by seat belts, but that is only an extremely remote possibility — certainly the exception, not the rule.

I have seen accidents where the car involved could be driven away, but the driver was dead! I have no doubt in my mind that a seat belt could have saved those people.

Parents, don't you want your children to wear seat belts? Then don't lecture them. Give them an example and wear yours.

Bay Youth Football League defends treatment of facilities

To the Editor:

In response to Superintendent Paul Tisdale's letter to the editor on Sunday, Oct. 3, I challenge his remarks of the condition of the facilities after use by the Bay Youth Football League.

It is easy to see why I've heard so many complaints from Bay High coaches, teachers and parents of kids in the Bay St. Louis School System.

Fact is, the field was never left uncleaned due to the generosity of Sheriff Ronnie Peterson, who sent trustees, along with help from league coaches, officers and parents who cleaned the facilities to the OK of the athletic director.

The concession, bathrooms, bleachers and field were always left in better shape than when we found them. On the fence that was supposedly abused, if you've ever been to a Bay High football game, you have seen kids running around, climbing and jumping this fence.

On the field house situation, the equipment stayed in there all of two days and was removed and the building cleaned.

Talking with coaches at Bay High, the sprinkler system was messed up during the last home game of the '92 season.

Wake up and smell the roses, school board members. Let this superintendent know he is wrong to deprive the kids of the taxpayers' use of this facility.

After all, 90 percent of these kids are in the Bay-Waveland School District. St. Stanislaus, which receives no taxpayer money and no casino revenue, has provided their facilities so the kids can play football. They should be commended.

Lynch's retirement leaves huge void in Waveland

Dear Editor,

I just found in my monthly statement from Waveland Drug Company a letter from Louise Lynch to all of her customers and friends stating that "Our drug store on Coleman Avenue will be closing December 31, 1993. Louise is retiring!"

We moved to Waveland about 30 years ago, so I'm not a "native." However, we did go through Camille — and that makes me a "pseudo-native," so I feel I can write about our changing times in Waveland.

Things have changed in our town as well as all along the Coast, and that's progress, I suppose; but I cannot tell you how the passing into retirement of Waveland Drug Company saddens me.

I feel it is one of the last vestiges of the "good ole days" we have enjoyed in Waveland and we are losing it. This leaves a great empty spot in my conception of life in Waveland.

I had no idea that Louise's family had been serving our medicinal needs for almost 70 years in Waveland. No wonder she and her drug store are such an institution of support and help in time of illness and a happy meeting place for friends to gather to catch up on all the news.

I have often said, "Only in Waveland can I phone in for a prescription, be recognized immediately by Annabelle (I didn't even tell her who was calling), and on occasion when I couldn't get there to pick up the medication, she said, 'I'll bring it right over'."

I am very glad Louise will be able to retire and enjoy her family and many friends in a more leisurely manner, but I know I speak for all of us when I say, "Louise, we will miss the opportunity to walk into Waveland Drug Store and see your smiling face in the pharmacy always ready to help, to give good advice or to sit and have coffee at the little round tables toward the back of the store."

Annabelle with her friendly, helpful personality will be sorely missed also. You might say Louise and Annabelle are a matched pair. Where you see one you expect to see the other.

I hope that with the retirement of our drug store, I will get to see more of Louise and Annabelle at lunch and other fun activities.

We all say many, many "Atta Girls" to you and "jobs well done" and "all best wishes for a fulfilling retirement" and "we all love you — a lot." God bless you both. I feel very blessed for having known you for 30 years and look forward to the next 30 years of knowing you.

Right-to-lifers, liberals have much in common

To the Editor:

The right-to-lifers, in their eagerness to enforce pregnancy as a kind of ideological punishment (and in their glaring lack of interest in child welfare after birth) reveal their own hostility to children, who seem to be nothing but throw-away political weapons, and the liberals who consider children as nothing more than socioeconomic garbage that can drag you down, have a great deal in common.

Perhaps the ones yet to be born to this world should tell them both, "Please shut the hell up. You don't realize it in your ignorance and your quarrelsomeness, but we're all you've got coming to you."

Thank you,
Tom Fulcher

Oyster season to open Monday

The 1993-94 Mississippi oyster season will officially open Monday, Oct. 11. All Mississippi public reef areas will open for harvest at legal sunrise Monday provided that water quality in each area is within safe, acceptable levels.

This year's harvest should equal or exceed the 156,000 sacks landed last year, says shellfish coordinator John Cirino of the Bureau of Marine Resources. Cirino said the total harvest will depend on the weather and how many days oystermen have to work the reefs.

"Our samples have shown good numbers of oysters on all the reefs, and if the fishermen are able to work regularly we should exceed last year's harvest," Cirino said.

Excessive rainfall causes sewage from the mainland to flow into oyster growing areas, which pushes bacteria levels outside acceptable levels, causing the reefs to be closed to harvest.

The following areas and public reefs are scheduled to be opened:

Area II approved waters include portions of Pass Christian and Henderson point reefs, all of Pass Marianne and Buoy Reefs, and the various shell keys such as Pelican, Fletcher's and Umbrella. A portion of Area II conditionally approved waters, which include portions of Pass Christian and Henderson Point Reefs, will also open.

Area II conditionally approved waters, which include the Long Beach Reef.

Area V conditionally approved waters, which include the Whitehouse Reef.

Area VI conditionally approved waters, which include the Graveline Bayou Reef and Area VIII conditionally approved waters, which include the east Jackson County reefs.

All reefs will be closed on Sundays, Thanksgiving Day, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day and New Year's Day.

The commercial sack limits for all public reefs is 60 sacks per day per commercially licensed vessel. On Saturdays and the day before Thanksgiving Day, Christmas Eve and New Year's Day the commercial limit is doubled to 120 sacks per day per commercial vessel. Commercial holders are limited to three sacks for personal use per day of the commercial sacks they harvest.

The recreational sack limit is set by state statute at three sacks per seven-day period per recreational licensed individual.

All fishermen must check-in prior to harvest at a designated check-in station or drop box. All fishermen must then check-out at the same station prior to 4 p.m.

The check station for Areas II and III will be the BMR's trailer at Pass Christian Harbor on the East side or the BMR's trailer at Bayou Caddy. For Area V the station will be the BMR's office at the north end of Oak Street in Biloxi.

For Area VI the check station will be the BMR's trailer at Webb's Landing at the end of Octavia Road. For Area VIII the station will be the BMR's office on Old Stage Road in the Orange Grove community.

Copies of the 1993-94 Mississippi Oyster Season Opening Order, maps of areas to open and the current oyster ordinance are available at the BMR's Edgewater office in Biloxi, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the BMR's Shellfish Program at 385-5860 or the Oyster Hotline at 385-5902.

Prefix will become part of in-state long distance calls

The information explosion that is catapulting Mississippi and the rest of the country into the future is about to change the way Mississippians dial in-state long-distance calls, South Central Bell announced.

State callers will begin dialing the area code with in-state long-distance calls beginning Dec. 1. Termed "Area Code Plus," the new dialing plan will become mandatory May 1, 1994.

"The proliferation of fax machines, cellular phones, pagers, computers and other telecommunications equipment has shrunk the national supply of telephone numbers," said South Central Bell district manager Rick Stewart. "In fact, America will run out of area codes by the end of 1995 if nothing is done to prevent it."

Telephone companies in North America have until January 1, 1995 to make the switch to Area Code Plus dialing, he explained.

"Simply by dialing 0 or 1, plus the area code — 601 — and the seven-digit telephone number on in-state long-distance calls, Mississippians will free up approximately 1.5 million telephone numbers," said Rick Stewart.

"So we can enlarge the pool of available local exchange codes, we will start using the number combinations we once reserved for area codes as central office codes. Before the conversion to Area Code Plus, we always saved prefixes with zero or one in the middle for area codes."

"Now we won't have to do that. When a customer dials one or zero plus 10 digits, he or she will be telling the switching office first that the call is long-distance, and second, that it is in-state," Stewart said.

One result of the change will be that telephone numbers issued after the May 1, 1994 conversion may look different — their three-digit prefixes may look like area codes. For example, 601-1234 could become a local telephone number, Stewart explained.

New area codes will look different, too. The new Alabama area code scheduled to go into effect January 15, 1994 — 334 — is one of the first of the new look area codes.

The change will mean more than just developing new dialing habits, he said. Businesses and individuals with equipment that automatically dials for forwards calls will have to reprogram their equipment. That is one reason for the five-month "optional dialing" period.

All Mississippians will be targeted by South Central Bell in an extensive public education campaign in the months before the conversion, Stewart explained.

Steg to judge Toast to Coast art show

Coast Episcopal Schools Parent Teacher Organization is hosting the 1993 Toast to the Coast on Friday, October 15 at 6:30 p.m. at 533 East Scenic Drive in Pass Christian.

Part of the event is a juried art show. The judge is James Steg, who retired last year from 42 years as a professor in the art department at Tulane University.

Steg has won numerous awards and prizes, and his artwork has been on display in group and solo exhibitions across the U.S. and around the world.

Steg's work may also be seen in the permanent collections of more than 60 museums and educational institutions. He has earned worldwide recognition for his prints and for developing new methods of printmaking. Some of his work will be on display through October at Serenity on Main Street in Bay St. Louis.

Serenity is hosting a reception October 17 from 2 to 5 p.m. to celebrate the winners of the juried art show.

IN AND AROUND DIAMONDHEAD

Nominees sought for Outstanding Citizen

By Margaret Williamson

Who, in your opinion, is the person who has made the most significant efforts toward making Diamondhead a much better place to live?

To gain the recognition he or she deserves, submit the name of your nominee, together with a resume, to Cliff Couture, 965 LaLa Way, Diamondhead, on or before Oct. 15.

Cliff has assembled a blue ribbon committee who will review all submissions and will select the person they conclude is best qualified to be the 'Outstanding Citizen of Diamondhead.'

The award will be presented to the person selected at the Diamondhead Community Association general membership meeting Friday, Nov. 5. All resumes and members of the selection panel will be kept confidential, said DCA president Philip Garberg.

We all know of some very special folks who have done so much for our community. Let's go all out to honor one of them.

ACADEMY HAPPENINGS

Hard work and good planning generally pay off, so thanks to these ladies—Roberta Lottes, Barbara Giggins, Patty McShane—and all who contributed to the tremendous effort that made the annual Diamondhead Arts and Crafts Fair the great success that it was.

The weather was a little warm, but cooperated with no rain. Facts and figures will be available at the next PTO meeting in November.

The date for the next parent-teacher conference is Friday, Oct. 22. Extended day care services will be available on this day. Call 255-1784 for more information.

Gentle reminders: With cooler weather coming, remember all outer wear must be dark colors—brights are not part of the uniform. This ruling will be enforced.

Children should not be at school before 7:45 a.m. as no teachers are on duty. The school staff appreciates your cooperation.

Thanks much, Brierly and Linda, you've done it again! Congratulations, Pat Zatarain, on winning the big one!

STUDENTS FOR ART'S SAKE

Diamondhead Academy's students in grades K-6 participated in the "Celebrate the Gulf Art Contest" this past week.

There were three winners in each grade level. You all know who you are, and we wish you much good luck as you enter the regional contest.

ATTENTION, SENIORS

Have you ever yearned to pick up a paint brush and just get carried away "doing your own thing" on canvas? Well, now is your chance to learn from a pro at the Senior Citizens Center in Bay St. Louis on Monday and Wednesday from 9-2:30 approximately.

Carl Baldenhofer says he can teach anyone; no past experience is needed. A few ladies go from Diamondhead sometimes both days.

Please call Margaret at 255-1317 for more information. Don't forget Friday morning at the Center, nice lunch, shopping on the way home. Leave Diamondhead Dairy Queen 8:30 a.m., return 1:10 p.m.

PROGRESS

Hancock Medical Center's Diamondhead Clinic, located on the west side of Gex Road just inside the entrance to Diamondhead between Woodland Village Nursing Home and the two churches, is well under way in construction.

The brick building will cover about 2,600 square feet and will house an office for Dr. David Roberts, a Flora, Miss. native, who is board certified in family medicine.

Besides Dr. Roberts, who will be full-time at the clinic, consultants from Hancock's medical staff will be available as needed.

Our lovely community is growing so fast, and we've been long overdue for this medical facility and the services it will provide our many residents, young and old.

WELCOME, DR.

A new physician, Dr. Thomas M. Lehman, announces his office opening at 4410 W. Aloha Dr., Suite B, Diamondhead. This will be a whole family health care clinic in the practice of urgent care, cardiovascular diseases and internal medicine. Call 255-8121 for your appointments. Isn't it great that our folks don't have to go so far for their medical needs?

PROUD PARENTS

Me thinks Robert and Kim Wakefield and Leonard and Carol Maillho are busting their buttons right now as their two beautiful daughters are making the news.

Monica Maillho, sponsored by the Diamondhead Community Association, was crowned queen of the 45th annual Mississippi Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo Beauty Pageant. She was awarded a scholarship to the college of her choice.

Heather Wakefield

Heather Wakefield was recently chosen for the lead part in the musical comedy "Anything Goes," presented by Delgado College in New Orleans and will also appear in "Anne Rice's Interview with a Vampire" to be filmed in New Orleans this month.

Heather is majoring in physical therapy at Delgado. Way to go, girls!

PROUD GRANDPARENTS

Sincere congratulations to proud grandparents Joe and Betty Adams, Diamondhead residents and owners of Diamondhead Cleaners and Laundry, Southern Charm Hallmark, Southern Child Babies and Children's Fashions on the outstanding academic achievement by their grandson, Matthew Phears, who participated in Duke University's annual Talent Identification Program (TIP). Out of some 2,000 students qualifying for grand recognition in all three categories of math, verbal and overall. He achieved a combined overall score of 1,150 on the SAT. He is the son of Wayne and Linda Phears of Atlanta, Ga.

DIAMONDHEAD CANASTA CLUB

We want all of our members who have not been able to join us on Thursday afternoons at 1 p.m. at Diamondhead Community Center to know how much we've missed them.

Our tables have narrowed down to six and less. Ya'll know how much fun we have—come on back, or let us hear from you. Our sincere get-well wishes go out to those who are ill.

SOUTH MISSISSIPPI UNITED WAY

The annual campaign to raise funds is underway. United Way donates a large portion of the Retired Seniors Volunteer Program (RSVP) matching funds and has for the past 20 years.

Mark your calendars volunteers for Oct. 13 at noon at the American Legion Hall in Waveland for the recognition luncheon.

Remember to give generously to your United Way campaign. The co-chairpersons in Diamondhead are Don Henderson and Gerri Garberg.

THOUGHTS FROM THE PRESIDENT

"The controversy between the board and some opponents may have some long-term positive benefits.

"It is obvious that we do not

Blessing of animals mass set Oct. 16

St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Diamondhead is hosting a blessing of the animals on Saturday, October 16 at 10 a.m. to commemorate the Feast of St. Francis of Assisi, the patron saint of animals.

Members of the church and community are invited to bring their pets to the special service after which pets may be brought forward to receive a personal blessing. Animals must be on a leash or in a carrier.

Refreshments will be served after the service.

all agree on the best direction of Diamondhead. Our priorities and values are different. Many want to maintain the status quo, while many want quality growth. There is a gap in the comfort level of spending, etc.

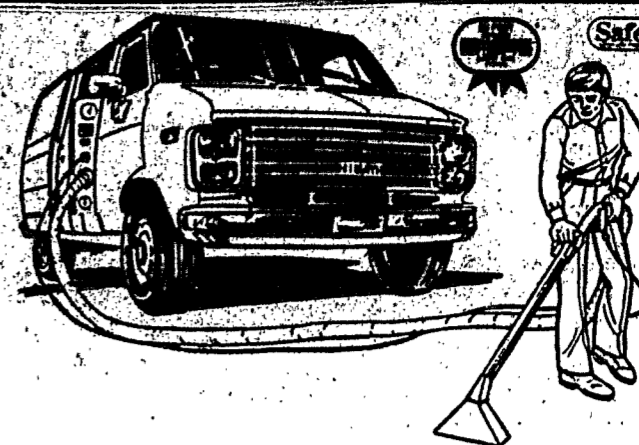

"The positive is that we are now aware of these differences, and we can openly discuss them with respect and understanding for opposing views.

"A certain calm seems to be returning to the community. More smiles, fewer frowns and friendly conversation appear to be replacing the negative cloud over Diamondhead."

Diamondhead Garden Club

Diamondhead Garden Club members and their spouses were recently guests at the Maunalani Place home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Finley.

This 13th annual event is held during the time of the full moon in September. About 50 guests gathered for dinner under the moss-draped oak trees overlooking Rotten Bayou.

Two in a Million

New musical to debut in Diamondhead

Special to the Echo "Two in a Million," a musical cavalcade starring Becky Allen and David Tringali, will debut at the Diamondhead Country Club on Friday, Oct. 22 at 7 p.m. The musical will be presented by the Diamondhead Performing Arts Society.

Allen and Tringali will take you on a whimsical voyage of musical pastiche through the ages with songs, dances and comic sketches.

Produced by veteran theater director Ty Tracy, "Two in a Million" features two of New Orleans' best-loved performers. Music and vocal direction is by Gloria C. Fallo, with percussionist Dave Thomas and additional material by award-winning author Bob Bruce. Becky Allen performs in movies, on television, at convention shows, civic benefits, parties and on stages throughout the New Orleans area.

Becky Allen

In addition, she performs with Ricky Graham in their own night club act at the Mint on Thursday and Saturday evenings.

The 10 movies in which she has appeared include "Hard Times" with Charles Bronson. In TV commercials she is remembered for Time Saver's Anna Mae and Rosemary and for the Universal Chair Lady.

Allen also appears on the cover of Mitchell Osborne's book "Mardi Gras—A Celebration." Working at the New Orleans Recreation Department Theater with Ty Tracy and Bob Bruce allows the lovable performer to give back some of the kindness and knowledge she has received in her 30-year tenure in the theater.

David Tringali has covered the United States, appearing in more than 113 shows throughout the country. He is a recipient of the New Orleans Music and Drama Foundation Best Actor Award. At age 15 he began appearing in high school drama productions.

Tringali was honored this past spring by the New Orleans Recreation Department Theater for 15 years of service as the star of "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," a role he created in 1979.

Always willing to donate his time and talents to worthy causes, Tringali annually performs in "Light up the Sky," a benefit for Belle Reve in honor of the late Fred Palmisano, one of New Orleans' finest musicians. Belle Reve is a residence for persons living with AIDS in New Orleans.

Tickets may be purchased at Diamondhead Discount Drugs or by sending a check and self-addressed stamped envelope to P. O. Box 6028, Diamondhead, MS 39525. Tickets are $12.50 for adults and include a complimentary drink. Tickets for children under 13 are $9.50. For further information call Carol Novak, 255-6042.

Shaw reunion slated Oct. 16

The descendants of John Gadsden Shaw will host their annual reunion at the Crane Creek Baptist Church in the Crane Creek community of Hancock County off Hwy. 53 on Saturday, Oct. 16 at 10 a.m.

John Gadsden Shaw settled in the northwest area of Harrison County circa 1846 where he married Annie Ladner, daughter of Carlos Ladner and Annie Rester Ladner in 1946.

Shaw came to this area from the framing country of Maysville, S.C. He was a school teacher for Harrison County and a farmer.

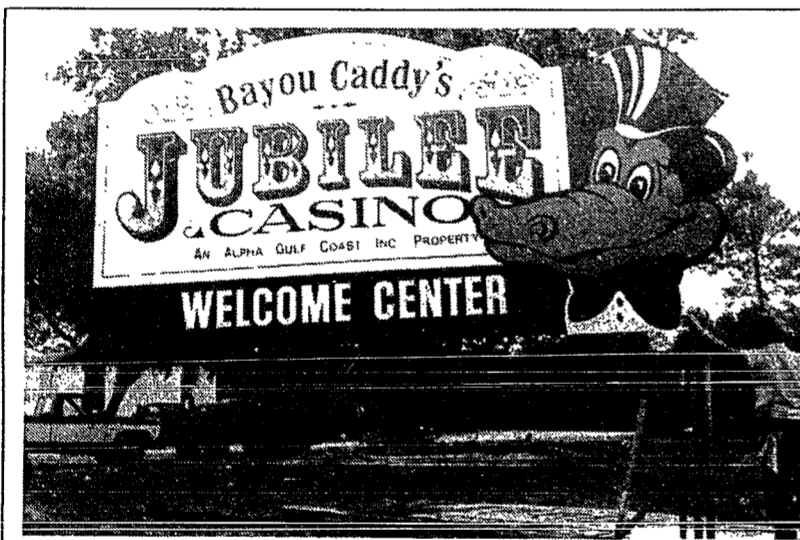

There were 15 children born to the Shaws. They settled in the surrounding areas of Pearl River, Harrison, Jackson and Stone counties.

Many family members still live in the area.

The Shaws' children were David McBride Shaw, Carlos Rester Shaw, John Bethune Shaw, Samuel Shaw, Rebecca Shaw Smith, William Ervin Shaw, Henrietta Louise Shaw Smith, Harriet Annie Shaw Ladner, Junius Mayers Shaw, Edgar Shaw, Emily Shaw, Lillis Shaw Ladner, Calvin Shaw, a former Hancock County supervisor for 28 years; Alice Shaw and Joseph Chandler Shaw.

Family members are asked to bring a basket lunch. Cups, plates, napkins and utensils will be furnished.

For further information contact Terry Shaw, 799-2376 or Marie Shaw Cagle, 452-2524.

Going up

Bayou Caddy's Jubilee Casino's colorful new sign is being hoisted in place at the casino's Welcome Center site on Hwy. 90 just west of Waveland. The Jubilee Casino Welcome Center is scheduled to open in the next few weeks, and will serve as a slot card membership and information center. The casino is located four miles south of Clermont Harbor off Lakeshore Road and is expected to open later this fall pending license approval.

The Bob Harmon Forecast

College Football Highlights

For Oct. 9

If Florida State coach Bobby Bowden hears anyone yell "Wide right!" during this week's potential game of the year against Miami in Tallahassee, his knees may weaken regardless of which team's kicker has just missed.

In 1991, Seminole kicker Gerry Thomas was wide to the right on a field goal attempt that would've beaten Miami, and the Hurricanes won 17-16. Last year, climaxing a classic game, Florida State's Dan Mowrey missed a 38-yarder — wide right — that would've tied Miami, and the Hurricanes won again, 19-16. It was their third straight win over the Seminoles and their seventh in the last eight years. Florida State's only recent win in this series was a 24-10 victory in '89.

This year, however, the Seminoles look practically unbeatable — while, two weeks ago, Colorado made Miami look beatable indeed. So, despite the fact that Florida State's heavily recruited freshman kicker, Scott Bentley, has to contend not only with his predecessors' nightmarish legacy but the so-called Sports Illustrated jinx (he appeared on the cover of SI's college football issue), we're picking Florida State. The outcome won't hinge on a field goal attempt.

Michigan has won two straight from Michigan State — 35-10 at home last year and 45-28 in East Lansing in '91 — and this week, in East Lansing, the Wolverines should make it three. But we don't think Texas will run its four-year winning streak against Oklahoma up to five. The Sooners, who lost to the Longhorns 34-24 last year, are showing signs of their early-'70s dominance, and the crimson (of Oklahoma) may well blot out the burnt orange (of Texas) in the annual Red River War.

Washington and California may have finished at opposite ends of the Pacific-10 in '92, but the Golden Bears will climb several rungs this year. The Huskies handled California easily in Seattle last year, 35-16, but the Bears should make a real game of it on Saturday in Berkeley. After a 4-7 rebuilding year, second-year Cal coach Keith Gilbertson, his staff and the payers are all on the same page — where a few of the Huskies' secrets may be scribbled. Gilbertson, after all, came to Cal from none other than Washington, where he was the offensive coordinator.

NFL Forecast for Sunday and Monday Oct. 10-11

*Cleveland, 24—Miami, 21

This shapes up as one of the best games of the week, with the Browns having rested a week and the Dolphins breathing heavily after battles with Buffalo and Washington. Miami won by four last year.

Dallas, 26—Indianapolis, 20

These two teams haven't played since 1984, the Colts' first season in Indiana. The Cowboys haven't lost to Baltimore since the 1970 Super Bowl, though they're new to the Hoosier Dome.

*Green Bay, 22—Denver, 17

In 1990, the last time they met, the Broncos were 22-13 winners. After two tough road games, the Packers may cut loose at home, but whether either team is a playoff contender remains to be seen.

*Kansas City, 33—Cincinnati, 16

A different Cincinnati beat a different K.C., 21-17, in their most recent matchup in '89. Defenses like the Bengals' should help Joe Montana to a few more memorable passing performances.

*L.A. Raiders, 28—N.Y. Jets, 27

Here's another pair that hasn't butted heads in four years. Then, neither team made the playoffs; this year both have a shot. With road games before and after this one, L.A. needs a win more.

*Minnesota, 30—Tampa Bay, 14

The Vikings beat the Bucs by six the first time they met in '92, then blew them away 35-7 in the rematch — their fourth straight win in this series. T.B. isn't any better, and may be worse.

*Philadelphia, 27—Chicago, 23

Believe it or not, the Bears have won six straight over the Eagles since '83, even when Philly's been a superior team — like their last game, a 27-13 Chicago upset in '89. The streak will end.

*Phoenix, 20—New England, 7

The Cardinals have won six of the seven times they've played the Patriots, most recently 24-10 in '91. Both teams may finish last in their divisions again, but Phoenix is out of N.E.'s league.

*Pittsburgh, 29—San Diego, 27

The Chargers haven't beaten the Steelers in Three Rivers Stadium in 11 years, and Pittsburgh has won the last four in this series. For the Steelers, off to a rocky start, this is a must-win.

*Washington, 21—N.Y. Giants, 20

Are the Giants for real? Can Redskin QB Cary Conklin keep Washington in contention until Mark Rypien returns? Even with the 'Skins at home, isn't this pick an upset? More like a toss-up.

*Buffalo, 31—Houston, 24

(Monday) After thumping the Bills 27-3 to end the '92 regular season, the Oilers made history with the greatest collapse ever, losing the rematch 41-38. For the re-match, hold on to your hats.

Kenny Lyons stepped down last week as head coach for the St. Stanislaus football team. The Rocks will now be under the leadership of interim head coach Larry Ramsey.

Principal Mike Ryan said, "Lyons and I had a mutual agreement that it would be in the best interest of the team to make this change, and I have asked Ramsey to assume the responsibility of interim coach for the remainder of the season."

Ryan said at the end of the season, SSC will accept applications for head coach, conduct interviews and name a new head coach for the 1994 season.

Ramsey, a PE instructor and track coach, was the assistant coach under Lyons.

Last Friday was his first game as head coach. SSC lost 28-0 to d'Iberville, increasing its losing streak to 20 games.

"The students have handled the situation in a mature way. The coaching staff is keeping the practices upbeat, and we hope to be successful for the remainder of the year," said Ramsey.

SSC places 4th in Biloxi tournament

The St. Stanislaus varsity cross country team placed fourth among 14 in the Biloxi Invitational October 2.

The varsity team had 120 points; the junior varsity placed second with 63 points; and the junior high placed fourth with 142 points.

Individual results included:

Gulf Islands Seashore slates October programs

Gulf Islands National Seashore begins its October program series. Topics include lighthouses, alligators and much more at Davis Bayou in Ocean Springs. Programs are free and last one hour.

On Saturday, Oct. 9, hear about a 'Soldier's Life' on Ship Island in the 1860's. Meet at 7 p.m. in the campground amphitheater as a Civil War soldier tells his not-so-romantic story.

On Sunday, Oct. 10, meet at 2 p.m. in the Visitor Center for a 'Marsh Walk.' Stroll with a park ranger and discover the plants and animals which call a Mis-issippi salt marsh home.

On Saturday, Oct. 16, 'Light-houses of the Gulf' explores some of the most fascinating buildings to be built on the Coast. Meet at 7 p.m. in the campground amphitheater and find out what's really inside a lighthouse!

On Sunday, Oct. 17, peer into the murky 'Realm of the Alligator' beginning at 2 p.m. in the Visitor Center auditorium. This excellent National Geographic movie gets you closer to alligators than some people may think possible.

On Saturday, Oct. 23, join a ranger for a look at 'Osprey!' These talented fishhawks have survived harsh island life as well as pesticides and pollution. Find out how at 7 p.m. in the campground.

On Sunday afternoon, Oct. 24, discover a rich nautical history dating from pre-colonial days to modern times during 'Boats of the Coast.' It's a look at canoes, pirogues, shrimpboats and more at 2 p.m. in the Visitor Center.

On Saturday, Oct. 30, enjoy this Halloween Eve treat in the campground amphitheater. If you dare, join us at 7 p.m. to face the Creatures of the Dark Bayou. We don't promise ghosts or goblins... just a ranger beside a campfire describing the unusual and fascinating creatures who make the dark bayou home.

October activities close with another 'Marsh Walk' on Sunday, Oct. 31, around the boardwalks and sidewalks of Davis Bayou. Come to the Visitor Center at 2 p.m.

The entrance to the Davis Bayou campground and the William M. Colmer Visitor Center can be found off Highway 90 East in Ocean Springs. For more information call 875-9057.

Hancock unemployment figures continue steady decline

Hancock County unemployment figures continued a steady decline in August according to the Mississippi Employment Security Commission.

The MESOC reported unemployment rates for August are 5.2 percent for Hancock County (5.5 percent in July), 6.0 for the State of Mississippi (6.3 in July) and 6.5 for the United States (6.9 in July).

The Mississippi rate of 6.0 was the lowest rate recorded this year. Compared to August of 1992, the rate was down more than 3 percent, adding further evidence of significant long-term economic strengthening.

The civilian labor force in Hancock County declined by 280 persons from 15,260 to 14,980, as high school and college students returned to school. The number of employed persons also declined by 230 from 14,430 in July to 14,200 in August.

Unemployment fell from July's rate of 830 to 780 employed persons in Hancock County in August.

Neighboring counties rates from July to August included: from 4.2 to 4.1 for Harrison County, from 6.1 to 5.7 percent for Jackson County, from 8.1 to 7.4 for Pearl River County, and from 8.8 to 9.5 for Stone County.

MESOC expects the September labor force figures to reflect even more improvement. Agricultural activities and school-related employment surges usually bring about an increase in employment levels and a somewhat decline in unemployment totals, which usually results in a lower unemployment rate.

Diboll Heritage Plaza

St. Stanislaus celebrated its 140th anniversary year and Foundation Day for the Brothers of the Sacred Heart last week with a dedication of the new Diboll Heritage Plaza. The new plaza, located behind the campus' main building, was a donation of the Collins C. Diboll Private Foundation in memory of Diboll's father, Collins Cerre' Diboll. Collins Diboll Sr. designed SSC's main building after a fire in 1903. The cornerstone survived Hurricane Camille, but the building did not. The original cornerstone was placed in the plaza along with a statue of Jesus and marble benches. At right is Donald Diboll, trustee for the Foundation; left, students Jeremy Compretta, Brooks Quinlan, the Rev. Peter Mockler, Loyola University president and SSC Hall of Fame member the Rev. James Carter S.C. and principal Dr. Michael Ryan take part in the ceremony. (Staff photo by Amy Pickich)

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1993-1B

Outdoor art exhibit

'A Place of Art II' features the best of area artists Saturday, Oct. 9

Area artists will come together on Main Street Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. for the second annual outdoor exhibit and sale, sponsored by the Bay St. Louis Development Foundation.

"A Place of Art II is our premier showcase for one of the finest assets of our community — our artists," said Mayor Edward Favre.

Early visitors may receive the commemorative event hand fan featuring the work of A Place of Art II signature artist, Elizabeth Lirette-Vest. The fans will be available from Ms. Vest at her location at the intersection of Main and Second streets.

Artists' directories will be available at the information table or from the artists. The directory lists each of the participating artists, their professional biography, gallery affiliation and address.

"A Place of Art's directory rivals any directory produced in the Southeast. That is a bit of bragging, but our artists are worthy of more than a telephone listing. We are proud of their contributions and want to foster their continued contact with clients," said Mike Cuevas, Foundation project manager.

Charter artists for the event are:

- Bernice Augrain, oil and watercolorist
- Carter Church, couture designer and watercolorist
- Terry Blake Edwards, many mediums
- Kat Fitzpatrick, many mediums
- L. J. Griffin, photography
- Pat Hossack, photography
- Catherine Ryan Lawson, stained glass
- Vicki Lever, handmade paper, mixed media collage
- Andrea Loiacano, acrylic, watercolor, pen and ink, print making
- Sherryl Schmidt Lutz, decorative and functional pottery
- Annie Meyer, oil, crayon, pencil
- Kelly Russell, watercolor, graphite, colored pencil, jewelry, mixed media weaving
- Bonnie Tanner, sculpture, oil
- Ruth Richards Thompson, oil and acrylic
- Doc Toups, photography, sculpture
- Elizabeth Veglia, mosaics

—Elizabeth Lirette-Vest, watercolor, pastel, drawing, print making, sculpture, pottery, oil

—Zina Waller, oil, photography

—Susie Gwin Webb, mixed media, woven collage, papier-mache sculpture, art cards

—Donna Wesson, sculptural, decorative and functional pottery/ceramics, mixed media, fabric, leather and painted art

The Foundation introduces the following new artist participants:

—Bear Barrett, pottery

—Weldon Bordelon, wildlife wood carving

—Joseph Cangelosi, watercolor, pastel, collage, acrylic —Dorothy H. Copeland, watercolor

oil, acrylic, pencil, ink, silk, John H. Durham III, furniture designer, mixed media art

—Joey Griffin, acrylic, crayon, watercolor

—Jean Hammett, many mediums

—Ronald Allan Johnson, oil, acrylic, pastel

—Donna Lind, watercolor, oil

—Ed O'Halloran Jr., sculpture, pottery, charcoal sketches, watercolor

—Claire N. Pessay, watercolor, pastels, pen and ink, photography

—Sister Ann Reddy, SSND, watercolor

—Mona Santiago, oil, acrylic, watercolor, pastels, pen and ink

—Elizabeth J. Schafer, acrylic, metal collage, mixed media

—Cassandra Sestad, mixed media, photography, felt sculpture, oil, acrylic

—Proctor P. Taylor, colored pencil

—Renee Weaver, jewelry design

—Susan West, watercolor, acrylic, mixed media

—John David Wilson, multimedia, sculpture, contemporary painting

Additional exhibits will include a special quilt exhibit by Courtney Cagan and "As Far As He Could See," the Allen Collection, from the Old Capitol Museum.

Creole Kitchen and Bookends will present a demonstration by Jim Matthews, author of "Art of Smoker and Grill Cooking."

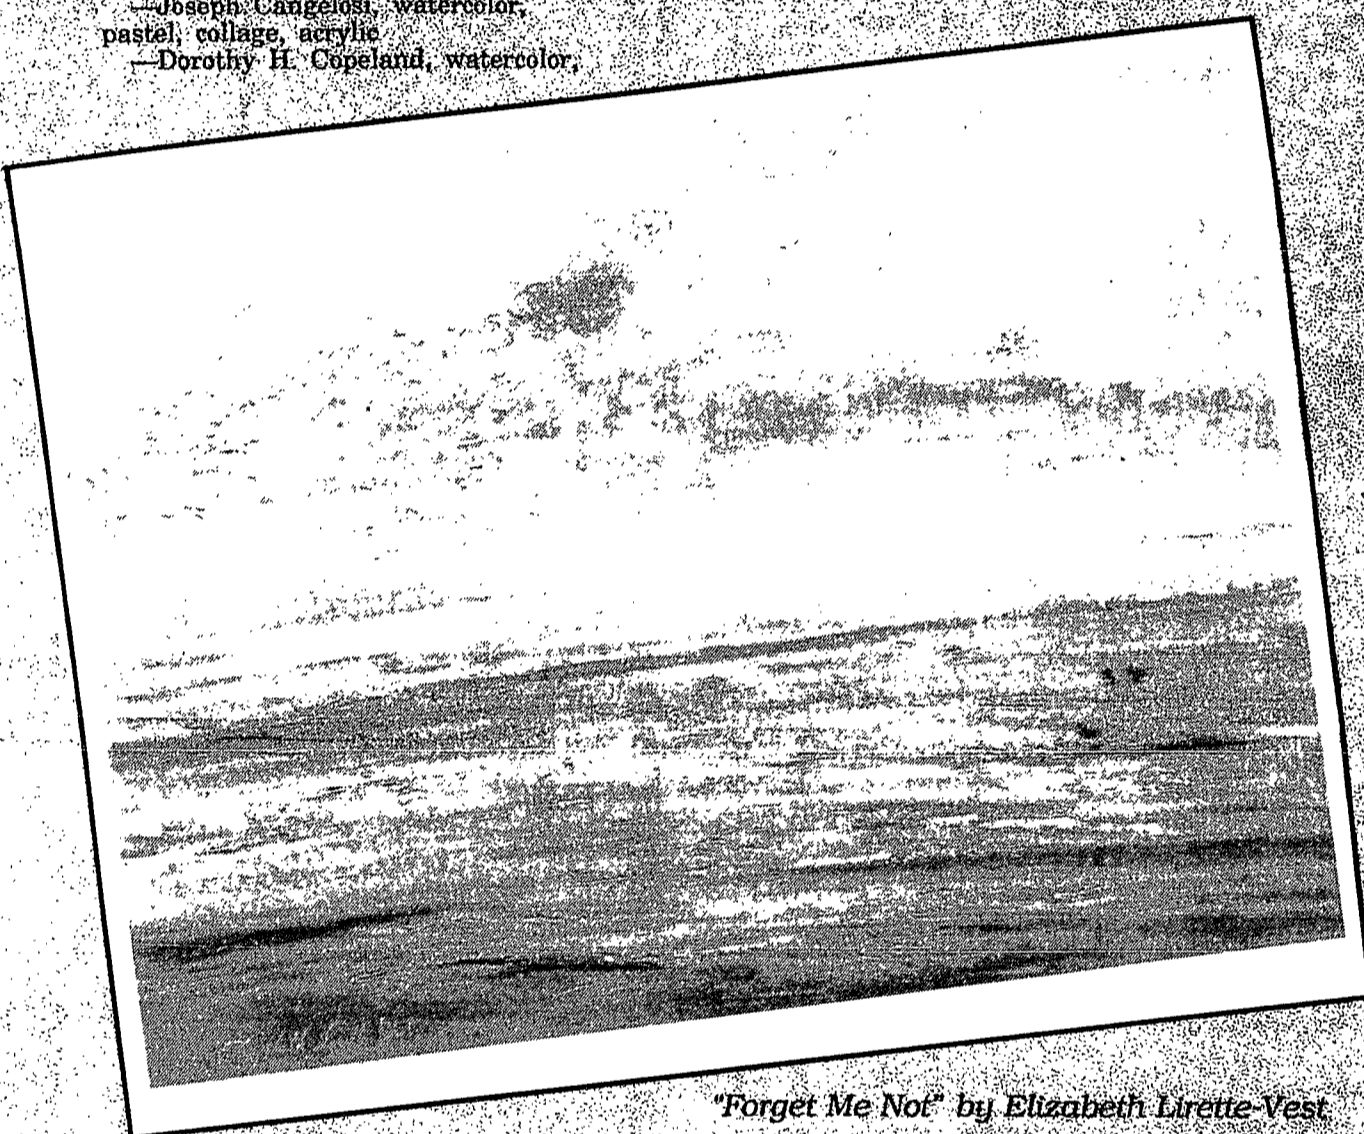

St. Stanislaus student Adam Hanes will perform impromptu piano concerts throughout the day on the courthouse lawn.

Of special interest will be the "Budding Artists" exhibit of art by the public and private school students of Bay St. Louis.

A Place of Art II is presented in cooperation with the City of Bay St. Louis. Corporate sponsors of the event include Casino Magic, Lattar and Blum Real Estate, ERA Bay Shore Realty and the Hancock County Tourism and Gaming Association.

The event is part of a joint venture of the South Mississippi Main Street cities of Bay St. Louis, Long Beach, Biloxi, Ocean Springs and Hattiesburg, to promote the arts in South Mississippi through Art Circuit. Art Circuit is supported by the Mississippi Arts Commission and the Gulf Coast Arts Council.

The Bay St. Louis Development Foundation is a public-private partnership with the City of Bay St. Louis and a member of the national Trust for Historic Preservation and the Mississippi Downtown Development Association.

Great grilling

The how, what, when and why of outdoor cooking

The Art of Grill and Smoker Cooking

By J. E. Matthews

A REVIEW

By Terry Thompson, CCP

This timely book, and by timely I mean it came to my attention at a time when there's a whiff of fall in the air and it's finally cool enough to stand in front of a grill, is a real gem. Being a technical-minded sort of nut, I immensely enjoyed the first three chapters on the history of cooking outdoors, the chemistry of cooking outdoors and the nitty-gritty of how to cook with fire and smoke.

There's also a good discussion of accessories and seasonings. These sections are crammed with accurate data and some really great culinary trivia to drop on your friends — guaranteed to impress them with your great command of the barbecuing process.

For those of you who wish to get right into the meat of the matter, this book is thoughtfully divided into chapters by meats — Beef, Poultry, Seafood, Pork, Lamb and Goat and Game.

Within each of these sections is a mini-dissertation on the cuts available in each group.

The seafood section gives some great guidelines on cooking seafood in general. This is also one of only two or three outdoor cooking books that gets into hot smoking fish after a brine marinade, although a future revision should include instructions on how long to brine the fish before smoking.

There is also a chapter on grilling vegetables and interesting little sections on grilled appetizers, soups, "odds and ends," and even desserts. (Yes! And we're not talking charred marshmallows here. These sound really enticing.)

I found the recipes to be concise and easy to follow. They are coded with little animal symbols to let the reader know which varieties of meat, fish or veggies with which the recipe is compatible.

For the serious barbecue "purist," there is a detailed section on the traditional barbecue in which a fire pit is dug in the ground.

I liked the book and found the myriad sauces, bastes, marinades and dry rubs scattered throughout to be quite diversified.

The book really won my heart, however, when I discovered the little box at the bottom of page 144 which exhorts the reader to never, ever use those noxious liquids bottled under the guise of being "cooking wines." "Use the real stuff," he said. I said, "Now here's a man who understands the importance of taste components!"

If you like to cook outdoors, or would like to learn to cook outdoors, buy this well-priced treasure chest of a book.

Books are available at Bookends and Creole Kitchen in Bay St. Louis.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Terry Thompson, a former Diamondhead resident, is a noted food writer. She has taught more than 10,000 students in cooking classes all over the U.S., and is also a restaurant consultant. She currently lives and works in Houston, Texas.

ANTHONY BURGERS

This is an excellent all around burger recipe. It is full of juice and produces considerable smoke when broiled on a covered grill, giving it a very distinctive flavor. Cook it only on a covered grill, or it will burn, because of the olive oil in addition to the normal amount of beef fat.

Blend ingredients thoroughly.
1 1/2 lbs ground beef
1 large onion, chopped
1 egg yolk
2 Tbsp. tomato-based barbecue sauce

1 Tbsp. dried parsley leaves
1/4 Tbsp. olive oil
1/2 tsp. dried thyme
1/4 tsp. black pepper
1/3 tsp. salt

Marinade

There are several ways to season beef roasts. Marinating for several days adds fluid, which will help tenderize the meat and give it a deep flavoring.

After marinating drain the meat for 15 minutes and brush it with vegetable oil before cooking, or baste with other basting sauces that contain oil.

Whether or not the meat is marinated, its surface can be seasoned with dry rubs or basting sauces. If only a dry rub is used, rubbing the roast with oil before applying the dry rub is recommended.

Finally, beef roasts can be served with a table sauce. The All Purpose Marinade below is mildly flavored and can be used with most any dry rub, basting sauce or table sauce.

ALL PURPOSE MARINADE

Makes 1 1/2 cups
Blend ingredients thoroughly.
1 cup water
1/2 cup dry red wine
1/4 cup vegetable oil
1 carrot, sliced

1 stalk celery sliced
1 medium onion, sliced
2 cloves garlic, crushed
3 Tbsp. vinegar
2 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 bay leaf
1/2 tsp. black pepper
1/2 tsp. beef bouillon powder
1/4 tsp. chili powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. cayenne

BARBARA'S SHRIMP

This recipe calls for more black pepper than most, so use caution if you do not like spicy food. Prepare the sauce below and pour it, still warm from the stove (not hot), over 1 1/2 lb of large (10 to 15 per pound) cleaned shrimp.

Toss the shrimp and let them stand in the sauce for 30 minutes at room temperature. Remove the shrimp and skewer them, with the skewer passing through each shrimp twice. Align the shrimp so the skewers will lay flat while cooking.

Brush additional sauce on the skewered shrimp to they are heavily coated. The sauce should be rather thick from congealing margarine and sticks to the shrimp.

Broil the shrimp on a covered grill directly over a hot fire for 3 minutes on each side.

(Saute for 3 minutes)
1/4 lb margarine
2 cloves garlic minced
(Add and saute for 1 minute)
1 Tbsp. black pepper
1/4 tsp. dried rosemary, crumbled
1/8 tsp. cayenne
(Remove from heat, add and blend ingredients thoroughly)
1/4 cup dry white wine
4 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 Tbsp. lemon juice
1/2 tsp. salt

Jim Matthews will demonstrate his cooking skills at Creole Kitchen during A Place of Art II Saturday.

MILITARY MENTION

LT. DUCKSWORTH
National Guard Second Lieutenant Ilos J. Ducksworth recently graduated from Mississippi Military Academy Officer Candidate School.

Lt. Ducksworth completed a 14-month course that featured training on combined arms tactics, physical fitness, combat communications, leadership doctrine and ethics. The course culminated in an intense 12-day exercise of simulated combat. Lack of sleep, long cross country movements, night training and the stress of leadership assignments without notice were some of the difficulties faced.

Ducksworth is married to the former Vanessa Singleton of Bay St. Louis. They have a daughter, Lakasia, 5. He is the son of Mandy Ducksworth of Kiln and Clyde Ducksworth of Albany, Ga.

He is a graduate of Hancock North Central High School and attended Pearl River Junior College and the University of Southern Mississippi. He was in the U.S. Army for four years, as well as the National Guard for four years.

Lt. Ducksworth is a training instructor at Keesler Air Force Base.

Play competition for 1994 Tennessee Williams Festival

Competition

The eighth annual Tennessee Williams/New Orleans Literary Festival, to be held March 24-27, 1994, is sponsoring a One-Act Play Competition. The contest, produced in cooperation with the University of New Orleans' Creative Writing Workshop, commemorates Tennessee Williams' contribution to the theater by fostering the development of new playwrights.

The winning playwright receives a $1,000 cash prize and a staged reading of the play at the 1994 festival. In addition, a full production of the winning play will be presented during the 1995 festival.

All plays entered into competition must be postmarked on or before December 1, 1993, and must be accompanied by a contest fee of $15 payable to the University of New Orleans.

Plays should be under one hour performance time in length; longer plays may be eliminated. The entries must have had no previous professional production.

For more information on the 1994 Tennessee Williams/New Orleans Literary Festival, write to the Tennessee Williams Festival, University of New Orleans, Metro College Conference Services, New Orleans, LA 70148, or call 504-286-6680.

Anderson Festival

The fifteenth annual Peter Anderson Arts and Crafts Festival is scheduled to take place on November 6 and 7 in the historic downtown area of Ocean Springs.

The festival has been named one of the Top Twenty Events in the Southeast. It showcases many fine arts and crafts, as well as entertainment and terrific food.

Booth spaces are still available and anyone wishing to complete an application should contact the Ocean Springs Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 187, Ocean Springs, MS 39564 or phone 875-4424 for more information.

Cats

Tickets are now on sale for Andrew Lloyd Webber's musical megahit opening of Cats November 9-14 as a Subscriber Special of the 1993-1994 Diet Coke Broadway Series at the Saenger Theatre in New Orleans.

Cats is an evening of unforgettable theatrical magic, with the beautiful melody of "Memory," the touching and heroic antics of the many cats, and the non-stop singing and dancing of the performers.

Individual tickets are available at all Ticketmaster locations and the Saenger Theatre box office. To charge by phone, call 504-522-5555.

Performance times are Tuesday through Saturday at 8 p.m., with matinees Thursday, Saturday and Sunday at 2 p.m. Ticket prices range from $26.50 to $37.50.

Nunsense II

Bay St. Louis Little Theatre continues its production of Nunsense II—The Second Coming on October 8 and 9. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

The sequel to the smash hit Nunsense is one of the first productions in this area of the hilarious new musical comedy. Early reservations are suggested.

Tickets may be obtained at the box office at 301 Boardman Avenue in Bay St. Louis on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 6-7 p.m. and Sundays from 2-3 p.m. or call 467-2472 to purchase by mail. Admission is $7.50.

Annie Oakley

The Saenger Theatre's Broadway Series presents

Cathy Rigby as Annie Oakley in Irving Berlin's classic musical comedy, Annie Get Your Gun October 12-17.

Tickets are available through Ticketmaster or at The Saenger box office, 143 N. Rampart, New Orleans. Call (504) 522-5555 for information.

Master prints

New Orleans Museum of Art introduced its collection of 20th century American and European prints recently in the Doris Zemurray Stone Wing on the Museum's second floor.

Nearly 40 diverse works by such preeminent artists as Pablo Picasso, Henri Matisse, Stanley William Hayter, James Rosenquist and Elizabeth Catlett are featured.

On view through Dec. 12, the exhibit includes works produced through a variety of printmaking methods, from stencil printing to techniques employed to produce drypoints and aquatints.

The museum is open Tuesday through Sunday, 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. For information, call (504) 488-2631.

Ballet

Coast Youth Ballet Ensemble artistic director Sharon Loiacano offers the following schedule of events for ballet lovers in the community:

—October 9-10, Mobile Ballet presents Act II of Swan Lake in Mobile;

—Nov. 13, Ballet Magnificat of Jackson presents a matinee performance at Bay High School;

—Dec. 4-5, Coast Youth Ballet Ensemble's second production of The Nutcracker at Bay High Auditorium, with special appearances by guest artists and new surprises in costumes and scenery.

WYES slates art auction

More than 700 exceptional works from artists in the metropolitan New Orleans and Mississippi Gulf Coast areas will be up for bid during WYES' 12th annual Art Collection Twelve.

The popular event will be held over two weekends in October, Oct. 8-10 and Oct. 15-17, and will feature wonderful paintings, sculpture, furniture and jewelry from talented artists, including some whose work is displayed in the permanent collection of the New Orleans Museum of Art.

Artists living and working throughout Channel 12's viewing area, which encompasses most of southeast Louisiana, have contributed to the auction.

During the auction, members of the public may call in bids at 486-7311 or they may attend the auction, held at WYES' studio at 916 Navarre Avenue, to bid in person. There is no admission fee for those attending the auction.

Daily sign-on and sign-off times are Friday, Oct. 8 and 15 from 6 p.m. to midnight; Saturday, Oct. 9 and 16 from noon to midnight; and Sunday, Oct. 10 and 17 from 2 p.m. to midnight.

To find out when specific works will be auctioned, bidders may call the auction office at 486-5511 beginning Wednesday, Oct. 6 at 9 a.m. A schedule listing the times at which pieces will be auctioned will be available Thursday, Oct. 7.

Project Marine Discovery goes 'On the Road' in new vehicle

"Project Marine Discovery—On The Road," a traveling version of the field trip program offered at Gulf Coast Research Laboratory's J. L. Scott Marine Education Center and Aquarium in Biloxi, is ready to begin its second year with a newly-refurbished bus to transport its staff and a menagerie of marine and aquatic animals.

The former 15-passenger bus, purchased with a grant from Chevron's Pascagoula Refinery, has an eye-catching exterior mural with a marine motif created by Biloxi artist Doug Blom. The vehicle has a wheelchair lift which simplifies loading of animals and supplies.

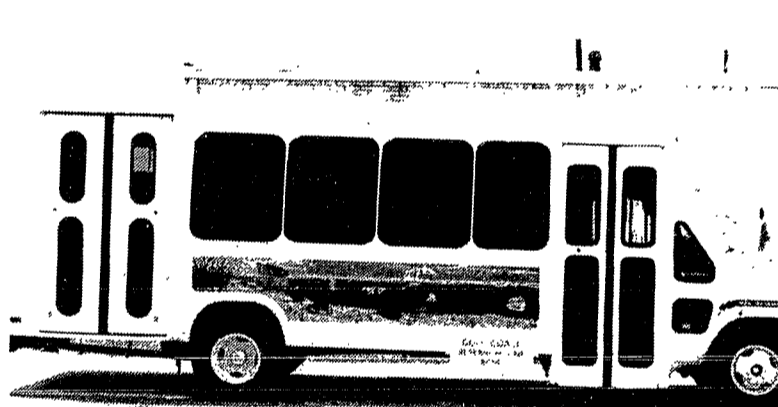

Removal of several seats, installation of a saltwater-proof floor and some engine and transmission work have prepared the bus to take the three-hour outreach program to schools within a 250-mile radius of the MEC&A.

The "On the Road" team traveled to 22 schools during the 1992-93 academic year, including Hancock North Central, Coast Episcopal and DeLisle Elementary.

The program is directed toward students in grades K-12 who are unable to travel to the MEC&A because of financial or transportation constraints.

MEC&A marine education specialist Joyce Roberts is coordinating PMD—On The Road, while other educators and docents are taking turns to bring the program to schools throughout the state.

According to Roberts, additional funding is needed to sponsor the presentation at Coast schools this year.

The outreach program offers students four different hands-on experiences. MEC&A staff members set up labs in different classrooms at the host school, and groups of 25-30 students rotate through the various activities at 34-minute intervals.

For reservations or information call 374-5550.
